- Please note that we are not liable for any other costs incurred due to cancellation, including but not limited to visa service charges.
- Minors cannot travel on their own. All bookings must have a legal guardian or adult over the age of 18, except where dictated by law. Where a child is traveling without a parent and with a legal guardian or another family member, a child travel consent letter must be provided and carried with you on tour.
- The maximum baggage weight allowed on our tours is not to exceed 20 kg and not to exceed dimensions of 90 x 75 x 43 cm / 35.5 x 29.5 x 16 in. Only one bag is allowed per passenger; any subsequent bags will be subject to space on the mode of transport along with excess baggage charges.
- All our tours operate with pre-allocated seating; we reserve the right to assign or reassign seats at any time, even after boarding the mode of transportation. Any indication of your seating is for reference only and is subject to change at any time. No seating requests under any circumstances are taken by the local operator or its carriers.

- We may operate multiple coaches for our tours; your booking should be under one booking and with the same pickup should you wish to travel with any particulars for any given tour.
- Coach, accommodation, and service facilities may be different for each individual even if traveling on the same tour, vehicle, or hotel.
- The Early Bird Offer is not applicable for infants aged 0-23 months for any holidays mentioned on our website or brochure. Infant prices for coach holidays are for a seat only.
- In most of Western Europe, the currency you will require will be euros. When traveling in Switzerland, you will need Swiss francs (CHF). It is possible to purchase items in euros while in Switzerland (selected establishments); however, it should be noted that the change will be given back in CHF.
- Passengers should exchange any spending money for their holiday before they actually travel. While on tour, it is very inconvenient, and not all places you will visit will have ATM machines or accept credit/debit cards.
- We also advise our passengers to keep some change in coins on them whilst on tour, as using toilets in many parts of Europe is not free.
- USD, GBP, or travelers' cheques are not widely accepted at locations in this tour.
- An important point to note whilst on a touring holiday is that some long journeys are unavoidable, especially when traveling from city to city.
- It is advisable passengers carry necessities that they may need for the day, such as water, dry snacks, cameras, etc., with them in their hand luggage.
- For this tour, it should be noted that the travel times are extensive on this tour.
- Breakfast will be provided at the hotels. The breakfast is usually in a separate dining area of the hotel and is usually a continental breakfast, which will consist of tea, coffee, bread, cereals, fruit, and yogurt.
- Passengers can choose from different diets, including vegetarian, Jain, or non-vegetarian (halal will not always be available) meals. Passengers should advise the tour manager of their preferred diet on day one. The meals are pre-set buffets, and a choice of menu is not available. Meals will be provided with tap water only.

- There are days when a pre-set continental meal will be provided.
- Lunches are usually vegetarian only and are provided outdoors at a service station/rest area where limited or no seating is available. Lunch is served in a picnic-style buffet arrangement. Dinners are usually provided within the hotel or restaurant in a separate dining facility. You should always consult your tour manager if you are not sure of what ingredients a dish contains.
- Not all hotels on this tour will have air-conditioning, so you should carry a small portable fan with you, especially during the summer months.
- Please also note that not all hotels provide a kettle, so if hot water is required for warming milk, etc., in the hotel, then it is advisable to carry a bottle warmer/kettle as well as a thermos flask. Passengers may also want to carry a small travel iron, hairdryer, etc., as many hotel rooms may not have these facilities.
- Some hotels in Europe, especially in Germany, Switzerland, Austria, & Italy, will provide two single beds put together as a double occupancy room, as this sort of configuration allows the hotel to use a room for multi-use. We do contract with such hotels, and you should be prepared for such eventualities.
- If you use services such as the phone, minibar, or pay TV while in your room, you will have to pay the hotel directly when you check out; these services are not included in your tour cost.
- The maximum occupancy per room on this tour is 3 person(s). The maximum occupancy during March to May per room may be 2 person(s).
- The WC facilities on the coach will be restricted on this tour.
- The tour will merge and change tour reps/coaches partway through the tour.
- High-altitude visits are not recommended for lung and heart patients who are already short of breath while at rest or when climbing stairs; they are advised not to stay at high altitudes. Patients with angina pectoris or severely impaired performance with heart enlargement and heart failure should not visit high altitudes. Coronary artery disease (angina pectoris) and heart enlargement with medical therapy should not visit high altitude. Patients with a pronounced risk profile for cardiovascular disease (smoker + high blood pressure + diabetes + high blood fats + overweight + occasional chest pain) should consult the doctor before visiting high altitude.

- A passport valid for three months beyond the length of stay and issued within the past 10 years is required by all nationals. Except EU nationals holding a passport or national ID card that is valid for the duration of the stay.
- If you hold an Indian, Pakistani, or Bangladeshi passport, you will need to obtain a Schengen Visa prior to traveling. Many nationalities do not require Schengen visas, such as British, EU, and American nationals. Should you need further clarification, please contact us.
- Weather in much of Western Europe tends to be the same as England and is very unpredictable. Regardless of the time of the year, it is advisable to carry an umbrella.
- Temperatures vary from place to place, and it is a good idea to check online for average temperatures for the destination(s) being visited depending on the time of the year.
- On a multi-destination tour, it is likely passengers will travel through various weather fronts; while in Switzerland, during excursions to mountain tops, passengers may experience temperatures between 0 °C and 2 °C while at the same time experiencing temperatures of over 30 °C while they are in France.
- Passengers can be well prepared by ensuring they are carrying appropriate clothing, footwear, and accessories. Passengers should also be aware that during the winter months most of the sightseeing will be in the dark, as, in Europe, the day becomes dark very early during winter. Passengers should consult with Star Tours at the time of booking if they are unsure.
- We will accept lightweight manual wheelchairs for travel, subject to them being capable of being stowed in the luggage hold of the coach. It is also essential that a family member also be on tour to push their wheelchair. Star Tours will also request hotels for suitably equipped rooms; however, this is only on a request basis and cannot be guaranteed. It should be noted that Mt. Titlis & the Eiffel Tower are not fully accessible for a wheelchair user. Brussels, Luzern, Lion Monument, Pisa, Rome, Venice, and Florence will have cobbled streets, which may not be suitable for wheelchairs.

The time we mentioned in the itinerary is for reference only. Please refer to your guide on tour for the actual arrangement. The visiting order and duration might be changed according to the actual and practical situation for better service.

This tour/activity is overseen by a select local operator in the region.
